

Environmental Policy – Alison Yule Textiles

Overview of you business

Award winning textile designer, Alison Yule, creates luxury hand woven fabrics that fuse contemporary design with traditional fibres and techniques and targets both the domestic and corporate markets. Alison Yule Textiles specialises in unique products that are individually designed and hand woven for each client and can include wall panels, rugs, cushions, throws and window hangings.

Statement of objectives

At Alison Yule Textiles we intend to improve our environmental performance by:

- Reducing the amount of water consumed during dyeing practice and in finishing fabrics without affecting the quality
- Source and use British Wool
- Work towards using natural dyes instead of synthetic dyes
- Work towards using natural mordant's and modifiers

Continual Improvement

This policy is subject to an annual review to ensure continual improvement across all areas of the business.

Environmental Legislation

Alison Yule Textiles is committed to prevent pollution during its activities, and will comply with all applicable legislation and regulations.

Communicated to all

This environmental policy is communicated to all that work or come into contact with Alison Yule Textiles so that each individual is made aware of the objectives outlined in this policy.

Management Commitment

The Owner/Designer is responsible for implementing this environmental policy.
